

THE GLOBE.

The Official Paper of Congress.

I shall publish the Daily Globe, and the Congressional Globe, and Appendix during the next session of Congress. The Daily Globe will contain a report of the debates in both branches of Congress, as taken down by reporters, equal at least, to any corps of shorthand writers in this or any other country. When the debates of a day do not make more than forty-five columns, they shall appear in the Daily Globe of the next morning, which will contain, also, the news of the day, together with such editorial articles as may be suggested by passing events.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix, will contain a report of all the debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments, the Reports of Committees of Congress on important subjects of general interest, the Laws passed during the session, and copious indexes to all. These will be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages, averaging 2,857 words per page. The whole will make between 1,700 and 2,000 pages. It is believed that no book has ever been published at so low a rate. Last year I advertised in the Daily Globe for six months, and in about one hundred other newspapers, in the United States, a reward of $250, to be paid to any person who would produce a book published at so low a rate, and none was produced. The large number of copies subscribed for by Congress enabled me to afford the debates to subscribers at a cheap rate.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix pass free through the mails of the United States, as will be seen by reading the following Joint Resolution passed by Congress the 6th of August 1852:

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the Laws of Congress, and the debates thereon, to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free communications between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contain the Laws and the Debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails, so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe, free of postage.

Approved, August, 6th 1852.

TERMS:

For a copy of the Daily Globe 4 months $3.00

For a copy for a less time (per month) 1.00

For a copy of the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the session. 8.00

Bank notes current in the section of the country where a subscriber resides will be received at par. The whole or any part of a subscription may be remitted in postage stamps, which are preferable to any currency except gold and silver. Where Bank notes under $50 can not be procured I will send two copies for $5.

A paper will not be sent unless the money accompanies the order for it.

I can not afford to exchange with all the newspapers that desire the Globe, but I will send the Daily Globe during the session to all who shall publish this prospectus three times before the first Monday in next December.

Those who publish should send their papers containing it to me, marked with a pen, a direct attention to it. The Congressional Globe and Appendix will be stereotyped, and therefore, I shall be able to send the back numbers for this session to all who may subscribe after the session commences; but if the first edition shall have been exhausted before the subscription money is received, I shall charge one dollar additional per copy, to pay the expense of putting the plates on the press. Subscriptions should reach me as early as the first week in December, to insure complete copies at the prices advertised above.

JOHN C. RIVES
